

Every Named Killing in the Iliad

The cast of the Iliad is mostly a casualty list. Read the map’s hostile lines as a ledger and you get 166 named killings and 151 named dead. Achilles and Patroklos share the top of the list with 24 each; the bloodiest book is XVI, with 25 named dead, Patroklos’ day in Achilles’ armor.

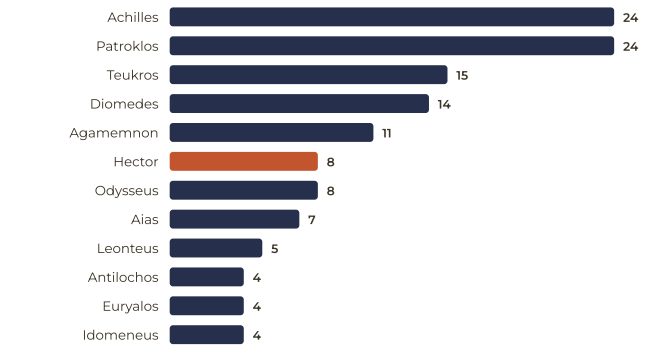

WHO DIES, BOOK BY BOOK

One square per named killing, colored by who died. Dashed squares are deaths in the text that the map misses.

THE LONGEST LISTS

Named kills per figure. Achaians in ink, Trojans and allies in terracotta.

THE DEAD, BY SIDE

Trojans and allies 138, Achaians 28: an epic told around Achaian heroes names the men they kill.

The ledger

All 166 named killings on the map, in the order the poem tells them. Each entry is a line on the map with the passage behind it; the dot marks the side of the dead.
